Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
EMPATHY
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (ATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have an excellent capacity for understanding others, for seeing the inner character potential of others,
2. have the ability to see and understand the needs and interests of others, to see and accept the unique individuality of others, to listen to them from their perspective,
3. have the ability to feel a sense of kinship with others, a bond with the intrinsic worth of all individuals, which can serve as a source of strength,
4. have the ability to enjoy being with others and to help others enjoy the same,
5. put others at ease and help them feel comfortable.

ATTENTION

These individuals not only have keen insight but also are attentive to the unique individuality and inner worth of others, have a strong desire to be open to and accepting of others, to pay attention to the needs and interests of others. This person may:

1. see others as better than they are or can be,
2. become too open and available to others,
3. overlook character flaws in others,
4. allow feelings to block objective judgment about others,
5. put off personal confrontations with others.

When this score is highly overvalued, these tendencies are increased; especially the sense of unrealistic optimism and the tendency to become too personally involved with others.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
EMPATHY
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (ATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [E1-] Reinforces the tendency to become too personally involved, to rely too heavily on intuitive feelings,
- [S1-] Can create a sense of suspicion when trust leads to being manipulated by others, increases the tendency to rely on feelings.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [I2-] Creates a tendency to be oversensitive to others,
- [E2+] May create inconsistent decisions and actions as this person focuses concern and attention to those who meet social/role image and expectations,
- [S2-] May lead to a sense of hesitancy and create a tendency to avoid personal confrontations.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
PRACTICAL JUDGMENT
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have an excellent ability for practical judgment providing them the ability to see, understand, and appreciate the functional worth and the usefulness of material things, people, and circumstances,
2. function well in such activities as evaluating, critiquing, comparing, and categorizing,
3. have an excellent ability for operational activities, doing, functioning, executing,
4. have an excellent ability for being sensitive to and aware of what is happening around them,
5. have an excellent sense of time and timing,
6. have an excellent ability for concentrating on what needs to be done in immediate circumstances and practical demands of the situation.

ATTENTION

These individuals have keen insight into practical, pragmatic thinking but do tend to be somewhat cautious about relying on their practical judgment.

As a result of this caution, they may:

1. delay decisions and actions until all of the options have been evaluated,
2. develop a 'Doubting Thomas', skeptical overall attitude,
3. concentrate more of their energy on assessing why things will not work rather than on making them work,
4. tend not to rely on money and material things as a primary source of motivation.

On the negative side, they may tend to become:

1. too 'results' and 'now' oriented,
2. too advice giving and critical,
3. and too focused on making everything practical and pragmatic.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
PRACTICAL JUDGMENT
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [I1+] May generate a tendency to rely on intuitive feelings for making decisions and to delay practical decisions when feelings suggest a delay,
- [S1-] May tend to reinforce the feeling of skepticism and doubt potentially leading to a chip on the shoulder attitude when things do not work out as they are suppose to.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [I2-] May reinforce the need to delay decisions even though they practically know what to do,
- [E2+] May substitute attention to social/role expectations as the criteria for decision over what their common sense tells them to do,
- [S2-] Can reinforce the need to delay decisions and actions.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SYSTEM JUDGMENT
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have an excellent capacity for seeing and appreciating system, order, conceptual planning, and organizing,
2. can see and understand the proper place for authority, conformity, and consistency,
3. have a keen appreciation for ideas, ideals belief systems, organizational structure,
4. understand and appreciate the value of conceptual meaning, the meaning generated by our minds, for creating understanding,
5. can see and appreciate the need for conceptual planning, which provides a structure or frame of reference that integrates the past, present, and future and thus creates and preserves the meaning of a situation.

ATTENTION

A cautiously prudent attitude toward system, order, structure, and structured thinking may cause these people to:

1. overtly or covertly question the authority of rules, norms and institutions, especially if they are seen as ineffective or in the way,
2. feel uncomfortable in a rigidly controlled or structured environment,
3. be inattentive to inconsistencies in plans and ideas, and to imperfections in things or people, and to disorder in the world in general,
4. de-emphasize conformity to rules, structure, beliefs or to conceptually structured thinking and planning.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SYSTEM JUDGMENT
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [I1+] Will tend to lead to an excess reliance on intuitive insight and hunches and to feel when they should think,
- [E1-] Can reinforce the tendency to see the world in chaos and to become a part of the disorder thus leading to delays in decisions and to increased tendency to be skeptical.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [I2-] Can create anxiety if this person looks to outside ideals and belief systems to reinforce inner self worth,
- [E2+] May reinforce the sense of frustration and despair when things do not work out,
- [S2-] The inner uncertainty about the future can reinforce the lack of order in the world and create a hesitancy about deciding or acting.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SELF ESTEEM
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have an excellent capacity for self-awareness, for seeing and appreciating abilities and limitations without preconceived ideas and will likely be very sensitive to personal individuality and uniqueness,
2. will likely be in touch with personal likes and dislikes, to identify with one's inner self worth,
3. will likely be authentic and genuine, to be honest with oneself about oneself,
4. will likely understand strengths and limitations,
5. will likely accept inner worth apart from expectations, which others may impose, or from ideal self-image and expectations,
6. will likely accept responsibility for self,
7. will likely have available a depth of inner life, an intensity of identification with self which can serve as a gyroscope in difficult times.

ATTENTION

The excellent sense of self-esteem may be interrupted by a tendency to not give themselves as much credit as they should which can lead them to:

1. feel a sense of doubt and question about their self worth,
2. rely on the expectations of others or on their own idealistic self-expectations to define themselves,
3. become sensitive about what others are thinking or saying about them,
4. potentially be hesitant about pushing in new directions until they are certain about what is best for them,
5. feel a need to achieve recognition and attention to reinforce their worth,
6. speak about themselves in ways that depreciate their value,
7. have difficulty accepting praise.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SELF ESTEEM
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [I1+] Can lead one to see others as more valuable than themselves, to pay more attention to the needs and interests of others than their own and to have difficulty saying no to others,
- [E1-] May reinforce the sense of hesitancy about pushing ahead,
- [S1-] May reinforce the inner doubts leading to a skeptical, chip on the shoulder attitude when things do not work out as expected.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [E2+] Can compensate for their inner self doubt but in doing so can cause them to substitute role image and social expectations for inner self awareness,
- [S2-] Can reinforce inner self doubt and either creates hesitancy about pushing ahead or a sense of comfort with where they are in the present.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
ROLE AWARENESS
LEVEL TWO -- CLEAR (ATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have very good capacity for seeing and appreciating their place and function in the world as well as a very good ability for identifying social and role norms, functions and expectations,
2. know what is required of them to feel comfortable and confident about what they are doing,
3. see and understand the options for development in their current circumstances,
4. develop a very good internal time awareness,
5. understand the value of social image, status and social and role accomplishments.

ATTENTION

Focus and attention on social image, role expectations and accomplishments and/or status can have the following effects:

On the positive side, their confidence in their ability to perform gives them:

1. a sense of personal contribution, competence, and satisfaction,
2. a sense of comfort and belonging,
3. a strong need to be recognized for their achievement and effort.

On the negative side, their attention to status and social image can cause them to:

1. overlook their own potential for making mistakes,
2. become extremely sensitive about what others think or say about them,
3. expect more from their social/role accomplishments than is possible or expect more from themselves than they can give.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
ROLE AWARENESS
LEVEL TWO -- CLEAR (ATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [I1+] Reinforces the excessive sensitivity to what others think or say,
- [E1-] Can reinforce the tendency to overlook their own mistakes potentially leading them to bump into the world,
- [S1-] Skepticism about external norms and standards can lead to an exaggeration of internal norms and expectations.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [I2-] Reinforces the tendency to define self worth with social and external ideals, standards and expectations,
- [S2-] Can generate excessive attention on the present that is comfortable and secure and delay decisions about the future.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SELF DIRECTION
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

CLARITY

These Individuals:

1. have an excellent capacity for seeing and appreciating self-order and self-direction,
2. keen perception of inner ideals and self 'ought' which guide conduct and give them a clear and strong sense of self-meaning,
3. have the capacity for a strong sense of duty, loyalty, and commitment to inner ideals,
4. have the capacity to see and develop a strong sense of mission and purpose,
5. have an excellent awareness of their self-definition, which provides a sense of continuity, constancy, and consistency,
6. have an excellent understanding of and capacity for building a self-structure which serves as a guide for their decisions and actions.

ATTENTION

Doubts and questions about self-direction may generate a cautiously hesitant attitude causing them to hold back until they are more certain of their future direction. As a result of this transition period they may:

1. become indecisive about seeking new directions,
2. become apprehensive about self standards and inner self 'ought',
3. demand less out of themselves than they are capable of giving,
4. develop a lack of urgency to either set goals for themselves or to go all out to accomplish goals,
5. develop confusion and disorientation because of uncertainty about their sense of direction.

Composite Attitude Survey (Analysis)
SELF DIRECTION
LEVEL ONE -- CRYSTAL CLEAR (INATTENTIVE)

BALANCE WITH WORLD

This capacity can be affected by the following world valuations:

- [I1+] Can act as a buffer to provide intuitive strength to overcome the stubborn insistence that their way is right,
- [E1-] Will reinforce the tendency to see things as they ought to be, to set goals which may be unrealistic or unfulfilling,
- [S1-] Reinforces the reliance on idealistic, preset, and perfectionistic thinking to order the world and self.

BALANCE WITH SELF

This capacity can be affected by the following self valuations:

- [I2-] Can reinforce the feelings of doubt and uncertainty potentially leading to a fear of success or failure,
- [E2+] Can compensate for the uncertainty about the future with comfort present circumstances but may reinforce a passive acceptance of things as they are.
