Value Structure Overview

World

EMPATHY (CRYSTAL CLEAR)

You are a keenly perceptive individual who has an excellent capacity for seeing and appreciating the inner worth and unique individuality of others. You have the ability to be optimistic and concerned about others. You do tend, however, to be selectively open overlooking flaws in those who meet your biases and expectations but becoming impatient with and critical of others when you feel that they do not measure up.

PRACTICAL THINKING (CRYSTAL CLEAR)

You have an excellent capacity for practical, common sense thinking and for concrete organization. You tend to be somewhat skeptical and cautious in your thinking leading to a 'Doubting Thomas Attitude' when dealing with practical situations. You tend to rely on what you think ought to be the case rather than your excellent common sense.

SYSTEM JUDGMENT (CRYSTAL CLEAR)

You are an individualist who will tend to overtly or covertly get things done in your own unique way. You may tend to be unconventional and novel in your thinking seeing ways of solving problems which others may miss. Your individualism can, however, lead to overly cautious and skeptical attitudes which may also lead to a 'chip on the shoulder' attitude when things do not work out as you expect.

Value Structure Overview

Self

SELF ESTEEM (CRYSTAL CLEAR)

You have an excellent capacity for seeing and understanding your own inner self worth and unique individuality. You tend, however, to not give yourself enough credit, to measure yourself against your own idealistic and perfectionistic expectations or against the expectations of others. In either case, you are likely to blow up your imperfections and to be overly sensitive to what others think or say about you.

ROLE AWARENESS (CLEAR)

You have a very good capacity to see and understand the importance of social/role image, of social status and recognition. You do, however, tend to pay too much attention to your social/role image and role responsibilities. As a result, you may overestimate either the importance of your social/role accomplishments and social image or potentially become overconfident, overestimating your ability to perform.

SELF DIRECTION (CRYSTAL CLEAR)

You have an excellent capacity to see and appreciate your self direction and inner principles which organize and guide your conduct. You have an excellent ability to see and set clear, realistic self goals but at this time, you do have some doubts and questions about what direction is best for you. This doubt about your future direction can leave you in a holding pattern somewhat hesitant about pushing ahead.

Intuitive Insight

Intuitive insight and intuitive feelings provide a powerful and reliable source for problem solving. Our research has shown that entrepreneurs, artists, salespeople and crisis problem solvers have strong intuitive ability as a common strength. Intuitive insight is a legitimate source of thinking. In many circles, this talent is treated as a source of emotion rather than thinking and logic. We measure intuitive insight as the ability to readily identify a problem, a potential solution or a direction which is fruitful, and as the ability to see a person, thing, situation or idea in its total meaning.

You have very good intuitive insight. Your intuitive ability gives you knowledge that is accurate and reliable which can immediately identify when something is wrong, when someone can be trusted, when a decision is the right decision and when the direction in which you are heading is your best and most fruitful path.

Practical Problem Solving Ability

Practical problem solving ability (common sense thinking) measures the ability (1) to rely on practical, common sense thinking for identifying and solving problems, (2) to readily see crucial issues in complex, difficult and confusing situations, and (3) to see how to respond with good 'street sense' to attain practical results.

You have excellent practical, common sense ability. This key strength helps you see what is important and needs immediate attention, to identify problems and practical common sense ways for solving them and to see flaws in things and situations. Our research indicates that many individuals have this talent but either do not recognize it or do not rely on it. As a result, this strength may be a surprise to you and may not be recognized by you or by others who know you. The talent is yours, however, and is available for you to recognize and develop.

Keen Insight Into Others

The ability to be sensitive to the unique worth of others is a powerful talent which connects directly to what is most valuable in our universe. You are very fortunate to have this talent. You have an excellent ability to readily identify the needs and interests of others. You have a genuine gift for helping people to see what makes them unique and special. You are sensitive to the needs and issues of others and to the protection of the individuality and freedom of others.

You are likely to be optimistic about, concerned about and open and available to others. You are a very compassionate, feeling person who has concern and respect for the opinion of others. You do tend to become too personally involved with others and to be too sensitive about how your actions will affect others. When you trust others, you are likely to give yourself totally to them and may be disappointed when they do not return the same trust, interest and commitment to you.

Excellent Practical, Common Sense Thinking

We live our daily lives in a concrete world full of things, events, circumstances, problems, details. We mark time by the passage of events, the growth and deterioration of things, the importance of events and situations. We measure each other by our physical and material successes. Although we know that there is more to us than the physical, we are constantly aware of the need to live and survive in our concrete world.

You have an excellent ability to be in touch with things and circumstances. You have the ability to readily identify what needs to be done and what is important and needs attention. You have keen insight into practical, pragmatic thinking but do tend to be somewhat cautious about relying on your practical, common sense. As a result, you may delay decisions and actions until all of the options are evaluated. You may concentrate more of your energy on assessing why things will not work rather than on making them work.

Excellent Conceptual, Analytical Thinking Ability

Each morning when we get up, we believe that the sun will be in the sky and that the air we breathe will be available to us. This faith or belief factor gives meaning to our experiences. Meaning brings order to our experiences, gives us names and labels which we can use on a common basis, helps us anticipate where we will go, reinforces our beliefs and helps us form habits such that we do not have to experience each experience as totally new.

You have an excellent ability for seeing and appreciating the need for order, structure and conceptual meaning. You have a keen appreciation for ideas, plans and strategies. You understand the importance of rules, norms and authority for helping us feel secure. You do tend, however, to be somewhat cautious and skeptical about rules, structured situations and 'black and white' thinking. You tend to be an individualist who may covertly or overtly challenge existing ways of thinking, rules, authority and norms for conduct, especially when you think they infringe on personal freedom.

Self Direction

The basic questions for all time are enduring 'Who am I?', 'What am I?' and 'What ought I to be?'. These three questions sum up our quest to be. We want to know that we have a purpose, that our lives have meaning. In fact, our research indicates that the strongest and most consistent motivating factor in all individuals is self direction and self purpose.

You have an excellent capacity for seeing and appreciating inner self order and self direction. You are keenly perceptive of those inner ideals and principles which can guide your conduct and instill a sense of duty and loyalty. You have an excellent awareness of your self definition and self meaning which gives you a sense of comfort that things will work out for the best. You understand where you want to go with your life, what will give your life meaning and purpose; however, you currently have some doubts and questions about which direction is best for you. You may delay decisions concerning self development until you are more certain about what is best.

Social, Role Confidence

Our research identifies three key sources for motivation needs, wants and expectations. Expectations define our goals, our sense of meaning and purpose. Needs define our total inner self, including everything from fulfillment to ambition. Our wants focus on what we are doing, what satisfies us, what gives us a sense of enjoyment and makes us feel that we fit into society. Wants then define our social and role self, what we are, and bring to one point in time, what we think we ought to be and who we ultimately are.

You have a good understanding and appreciation of your social and role image. You have a keen understanding of what is required from you. You feel confident about your ability to perform which gives you a sense of personal contribution, competence and satisfaction, a sense of comfort and belonging in the world around you, and a strong need to be recognized for your achievement and effort. You have the ability to see and pay attention to opportunities for development, but you may expect more from your job or more from yourself than is possible.

Dynamic, Positive Attitude Toward The World

Our research proves that all individuals have special talent and gifts which form the basis of their uniqueness and which can be developed and applied. Our experience also shows that most performance difficulties occur not because of lack of talent but from a lack of access to the talent. Many times individuals who succeed do not have the greatest talent. What these successful persons do have is the ability to utilize what talent they have. They believe that things can and will work out for them.

You are extremely fortunate to be one of those individuals who has a dynamic, positive overall attitude toward the world around you. Regardless of the difficulties that come your way, you believe that things can and will work out. Your trust and optimism gives you a sense of comfort in difficult situations and provides you the ability to bounce back and deal with stress, mistakes and failures.

Doubts and Questions About The Future

You have very clear insight about your future direction. Your ability to see and set goals gives you the capacity to see and understand which plans and strategies are worth your time and attention, to feel a sense of purpose and meaning in your life, and to know which ideals and principles will guide you in your life and conduct. Moreover, you have the ability to know what is worth your time, energy, and focus.

You do currently have doubts and questions about which direction is best for you. As a result of this indecisiveness about the future, you may tend to hold back your energy and commitment until you are more certain about what is best for you. Even though you can clearly see and understand your goals and plans, you may not be willing to go full force toward their attainment. These doubts are an indication of a transition experience; therefore, any hesitation or anxiety you may be feeling will be pushed aside once you have decided which direction is best for you.

Too Much Attention To Social, Role Image And Expectations

How well you perform in your role or job and how you are seen by others is extremely important to you. In fact, you tend to define your self worth through your social image and your job performance. Your concern about how well you are performing and about social recognition can act as a source of confidence and strength. You tend, however, to become too concerned about how other people see you, to place too much emphasis on status and social image, and to overestimate either how much fulfillment you can attain through your achievements or your ability to perform.

You tend to see and value yourself only through your role and through what others think or say about you. As a result, you are likely to be too sensitive to what others think or say. You tend to be overconfident about your ability to perform and are likely to overlook your potential for mistakes, to not see your mistakes and errors, and to be too quick to take on tasks before you have realistically evaluated what you can do.

Tendency To Be Too Optimistic About Others

You are a very compassionate, feeling person who shows concern and respect for the opinion of others. You tend, however, to shift from being too open and available, too trusting and too sensitive to others, to being cautiously discrete and skeptical of the intentions of others when they do not live up to your expectations. Your concern for and optimism about others can lead you to expect people to be better than they are or better than they can be. You may be disappointed when you feel that you give more to others than they give back to you.

Your concern for others may lead you to avoid conflicting or difficult subjects and situations, to delay stressful encounters until they become a crisis and to overlook flaws and inadequacies in others. When you trust someone, you make a total commitment to them. In return, you tend to expect the same total acceptance and commitment from others. In some cases, you may demand more from others than they can give or expect more from them than they are willing to give.

Individualistic, Potentially Reactive Thinking

The individualism and potentially inventive thinking which can function as a strength for you may interfere with your decision making. You can become so involved with immediate, crisis situations and with finding a way, covertly or overtly, to do things your own way that you develop a reactive, crisis way of thinking which leads to impatience, to frustration, and potentially to a 'chip on the shoulder' attitude things do not happen as you expect.

You can become so caught up with challenging existing ways of thinking and doing things that you do not take the time to think through all of the consequences of your decisions and actions. You tend to overtly or covertly question the authority of rules, norms and institutions, especially if you see them as ineffective or in the way. You will likely feel uncomfortable in rigidly controlled or structured environments and situations. Moreover, you tend to underestimate the need for taking the time to think and plan prior to making your decisions.
